Local Government Debt Setoff Clearinghouse cannot provide any laws or regulations as there are varying interpretations. Here are some issues to consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Statutes of Limitations are more concerned with how far back debt activity goes rather than how far into the future you can attempt to collect ○ Taxes: Can go back 10 years since last activity (bill/invoice sent) for taxes. Recommend not submitting to debt setoff if no invoice/bill has been sent in 10 or more years. ○ Non-taxes: Can go back 3 years since last activity (bill/invoice sent) for all other debts. Recommend not submitting to debt setoff if no invoice/bill has been sent in 3 or more years. ○ Once due process notification letters have been sent and there is no response/appeal from debtor, consider many years in the future as an expiration date ○ A legal reference from the N.C. Attorney General in 1996 before the Local Govt. C. Local Government. Debt Setoff Clearinghouse suggests that all local governments discuss with their attorneys as to the expiration dates on debts as they need to feel comfortable in the defense of a debt setoff many years after the debt was delinquent. ▪ Many local governments adhere to the N.C. Attorney General opinion that these debts are not subjected to the statutes of limitations and place expiration dates far into the future ▪ As of this date, the Clearinghouse is unaware of any issues with expiration dates/statutes of limitations ▪ If a local govt. receives a complaint about a debt collected more than 10 years (taxes) or 3 years (non-taxes) after submitted to the debt setoff program, the local government may choose to refund the debtor, including all fees. However, the Clearinghouse not the Department of Revenue will refund their fees. ▪ We suggest contacting other local governments in your area to discuss how they are interpreting and applying the statute of limitations in determining the debts they submit and the expiration dates they use.
